TUESDAY, JUNE 12.

ON ITS HIGH DUTY.

Verily the south is in the saddle. It has enthusiasm. It has courage. It has the old pre-slavery spirit about it yet. It is unshaken. It is not afraid to stand up for its heroes. It is not ashamed to show the north right in the face. It is not ashamed of its convictions.

The other day General B. T. Johnson, of Maryland, made a little speech in Baltimore. It was a rebel speech. It meant just what some of the speeches at St. Louis meant, but was in different language than was used in the convention. The paragraph in the general's speech which created so much enthusiasm in Baltimore was this:

"The south is progressing. She is not dead. These old confederate soldiers and their descendants elect ninety out of every one hundred congressmen, thirty-four out of the United States senators, and the president of the United States. The government of the United States is controlled by confederate soldiers. These old confederate soldiers are not idle. Their work for twenty-six years has been to show his devotion to the cause for which he fought. I cannot forget Jefferson Davis. He is renowned for his patriotism. I hope he will go down to his grave with the disfranchisement his enemies have put upon him, for I can assure he would never accept the right of suffrage except by unanimous consent, of which there is not the remotest hope."

This sounds a good deal like Mr. Tilden's speech at Atlanta, when the American flag was trailed in the dust, the confederate flag unfurled to the breeze, and when Jefferson Davis was pronounced a better man than Abraham Lincoln. And in its spirit it is Mr. Cleveland's letter which Mr. Cleveland wrote on Calhoun last year. It is this spirit that makes the south solid. It is this dominant spirit in this administration.

In the great City of Glasgow Bank failure a few years back, with liabilities of thirty million dollars, marked an epoch in British finance, the manner in which its numerous efforts have largely been overcome in no less noteworthy as an example of that "standing by each other" for which the Scotch people are so famous. Under the stern law of unlimited liability, the stockholders of the bank had to make good to the creditors every farthing of their accounts. This they did. But the process brought utter ruin to all, except a very few who could afford to pay an assessment of $8,000 on each $100 of stock. Thereupon, says the New York Tribune, the Scotch people set to work, quietly and with no appeal to outsiders to care for the unfortunate stockholders. A fund of $1,935,000 was raised, and so well has it been administered that not a stockholder nor any one dependent on him has suffered want or privation, while many have been aided by loans to regain a prosperous business standing. Up to date, 88 per cent of each loan have been repaid by the beneficiaries. There now remains for the fund some $500,000, the bulk of which will be devoted to purchasing annuities for widows and other helpless dependents. The entire transaction forms a notable record at once of generosity and thrift, creditable to the highest degree to the people who have thus turned disaster into honor.

The nomination of President Cleveland for another term commends itself to democrats as a straight-out party nomination. There were no mixtures and no mixmashery in the convention or in the air around it. —Rochester Union (Dem.)

This is an unkind cut, after the tragedy, which so much to elect the honest man, who said his nomination meant but one thing, and who promised with the earnestness of a saint that public office was a public trust, and that party politics would have anything to do with removals from office. It is true it was a democratic nomination. Cleveland is a democrat, and nominated himself. The democracy couldn't do otherwise.

The longer President Cleveland studies the returns from the advertising agents he puts up the more he must feel like putting up the advertising agent in the Buffalo papers stating that he will resume his law practice in that city early in March of next year. —N. Y. Tribune.

Hardly that. Mr. Cleveland refused to pay his taxes in Buffalo, said he had no property there, and then declared he did not intend to live there again. It seems that he is the only public man of note who belongs to no state.

Some very prominent democrats say that the republicans can carry Indiana if they want to, and among them is Judge Edgerton, of the civil service commission. Indiana is one of the states the republicans have decided to carry; so is Connecticut. There is just enough of enterprise and courage that is all wool and a yard wide in the republican party to gobble most of the doubtful states this fall. There will be no more accidental democratic victory this time.

Democrats have a queer system of arithmetic. They figured out a democratic majority in Oregon long before the election took place, and now they are trying to show by the same system of figuring that Thurman is not as old now as he was four years ago when he was counted too old to go in the cabinet.

Four years ago it was "Cleveland and Reform" but now it is "Cleveland and Thurman." In both cases the tail was admitted by democrats to be the stronger end of the stick.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Thousands of Members of the Order Gathered to Attend the Session of the Supreme Lodge at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 12.—The streets are gay with the red plumes of the Knights of Pythias arriving to take part in the great meeting of this week. Upon arrival they are escorted to the headquarters on Walnut street, where an entire business block is fitted up as a reception and dining hall. After feeding the hungry they were assigned to permanent quarters for the meeting. The great party which is expected to culminate every Saturday night in a horde of accomplished is not for Wednesday afternoon. Already workmen have covered the entire twenty-five-foot sidewalk in front of the Government building, extending from Walnut to Main, with an immense reviewing stand, from which the Supreme Chancellor and other dignitaries will review the procession.

CINCINNATI'S SUNDAY LAW.

One Hundred and Fifty Warrants Served Upon Saloon-Keepers Who Violated It.

CINCINNATI, June 12.—More than 150 warrants have been served upon saloon-keepers for selling liquor Sunday. The warrants were issued by the city attorney, and the saloon-keepers are now in the only forms of punishment inflicted for the violations of the law. Five trials have been had, with one conviction, two acquittals and two dismissals of the jury. The convicted man was awarded a new trial. There is talk of abandoning all effort to prosecute, as it is found that where no testimony in defense is offered, and where the testimony of the state is clear and unmistakable, the jurors refuse to render a verdict of guilty. There is a proposition to take the cases before the common pleas courts, where a different system prevails for selecting juries.

FREDERICK IN DANGER.

Starting Discovery of a Hole in the Emperor's Target Permitting His Life.

Berlin, June 12.—Fears of another crisis in the Emperor's condition, as suggested by the discovery of a hole in his target, are already realized. An opening has been discovered, extending from the trachea to the esophagus, seriously endangering the Emperor's life. In taking solid food, and necessitating the use of the administering liquid food. The cavity has been caused by coughing and the ejection of particles of tissue. The danger is from infection by solid food passing into the lungs. The Emperor was hastily recalled from London.

HUSBANDRY HINTS.

Industry, perseverance and economy are the elements of success in any calling, particularly so in agriculture.

There is no reason why the farmer can not stand on a level with his neighbors in other callings, materially in this age of cheap editions of good literature. The man has not yet turned up who, at harvest, blamed himself for cultivating the crop too well, or in his old age regretted that he had not cultivated for a grand old time. For the first time, little chickens, a prominent poultryman recommends boiled eggs chopped fine, shells and all, with baked corn-cake crumbled into scalded milk. Many believe that corn has a higher nutritive value than wheat, and that it is more easily digested. Dr. Corcoran has made more than 100 analyses of corn fodder in all stages of growth, which proves that the fodder actually increases in nutritive value until the ears shall have become ripe.

There is no fixed rule as to gain in stock in all experiments that have been made it has been demonstrated that even with animals of the same age and breed, fed alike and given equal advantages, each individual differed from the other in the weight gained. A comparison of the Rural New Yorker suggests that a good way to sow a large field with oats is to go around, instead of crossing back and forth, keeping the reaper wheel of the sower on the outside so that the seed will be sown in the corners, then, when you come to harvesting, go around the same way; then your last sowing will be out last.

It is a great mistake to sow grass seed enough to secure a fair stand. A peck of clover seed and a peck of timothy is not much to sow on a good condition. Much less would do it if all grew, but it will not, and the birds will carry off some of it. It is far cheaper to pay a little extra for seed than to have weak patches all over the field to inhibit a positive damage by their growth.

A correspondent in Farm and Garden writes: "I wish all horsemen knew the value of sundowner seed. It is not only one of the best remedies for the cure of the horse, but it is also a good condition. Much less would do it if all grew, but it will not, and the birds will carry off some of it. It is far cheaper to pay a little extra for seed than to have weak patches all over the field to inhibit a positive damage by their growth."

SHERMAN'S CONFIDENCE.

The Ohio Senator Feels Sure of the Chicago Nomination.

HE CLAIMS TWO BIG DELEGATIONS.

New York and Pennsylvania, Ho. Thinks Will Vote for Him After the First Ballot—Favors of Other Candidates Full of Hope.

SHERMAN'S EXPECTATIONS.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Sherman Presidential boomers are more than confident. They are claiming from every corner and in every public place that John Sherman is certain to be the nominee of the National Republican convention which convenes in Chicago next week. The Sherman contingent have been holding meetings quite recently since Sherman's return from New York. They had quite a lengthy conference at the residence of the Ohio Senator Sunday night, and in conference with locked doors the committee-room of Mr. Sherman at the Capitol. To those with whom he has talked the Ohio Senator imparts the refreshing information that he is sure of the solid vote of the New York delegation if not of the first ballot, certainly on the third. In addition his friends claim that Quay and Cameron will see to it that he also gets the entire vote of the Pennsylvania delegation.

ALGER'S NEW SQUAD.

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—Colonel H. M. Outfield, Alger's chief lieutenant, has returned from the East satisfied that Alger will be nominated. He says that twenty-five of the New York delegates are pledged to Alger, and that other New York men will come to him "early in the game." He considers Platt's assured support a guaranty that Depew can never rally the needed support, and hence of the conservative business and kindly social relations between General Alger and Mr. Depew, he confidently expects that the latter will deliver his support to the Michigan aspirant.

CHICAGO, June 12.—All the delegations to the National Republican convention have secured their hotel accommodations, with the exception of those from Mississippi, North Carolina, Texas, Utah and the District of Columbia. The latter first named will, in all probability, find rooms at the Sherman, with the proprietor of which they are negotiating. Where the delegates from Utah and the District of Columbia will go for one has any idea.

Following is the list, so far as completed, of the delegates to the Republican convention and the hotels at which they have secured accommodations:

Total number of delegates, 850; necessary to elect, 475.

The decorating of Convention hall will be finished by this evening. The task of placing the chairs on the lower floor for the delegates began yesterday morning. Mr. Adams, the manager of the hall, said: "Every thing will be in shape by Wednesday night. Thursday we will turn over the hall to the Committee on Arrangements." Are lights will be placed on the outside of the building and the entrance. All the furniture will be taken away and the outside walls will be washed. The lightkeepers say that every thing will be in readiness by Saturday night.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Washington will be deserted by many Republican numbers tomorrow. Many members of Congress are going to the Chicago convention. Representatives Henderson and Gear, of Iowa, left Saturday night to be on the ground early in the latest of Senator Allen. Senator McKim, of Ohio, will leave for his home Wednesday night. Mr. Butler, both will go to Cincinnati the same night and both will get into Chicago Saturday.

Chicago, June 12.—The First Congressional district convention yesterday nominated Colonel Abner Taylor for Congress on the second ballot. Colonel Taylor's opponents were Eugene C. Dunham and H. H. Hapgood. Colonel Dunham's name was not mentioned in the convention.

STILL IN THE MIX. New York, June 12.—Mr. Depew was yesterday morning, though the St. Louis dispatch stating that a letter had been sent to him in this city in which it was stated that Mr. Depew had withdrawn as a candidate for the Republican nomination at Chicago. After reading the dispatch, Mr. Depew said that he had no friends in New York who would, or could have written such a letter, and that, if such a letter had been written it was unwarranted and untrue. In fact, he said, the alleged statements were falsehoods.

THE OPINION THAT HE WOULD RECEIVE SUPPORT FROM THAT STATE.

THE OPPOSITION TO SHERMAN. Milwaukee, Wis., June 12.—The Washington correspondent of the Star writes that the opposition to Judge Sherman is composed principally of monopolies and corporations, and that the latter and their agents say that a number of Western delegates, elected to support Judge Sherman, will not stick to him in the convention. German Republicans about the charge of Know-Nothingism against the Judge.

A STRAIGHT BLADE TIP.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Bismarck leaders have agreed to support Harrison, of Indiana, and Phelps, of New Jersey. This is given as a straight blade tip, and comes from authentic sources. Backers of this ticket say Sherman would lose 30,000 votes in Indiana were he nominated.

LEAGUE OF REPUBLICAN YOUTHMEN.

New York, June 12.—The first meeting of the Irish-American Anti-Freedom League was held in this city last night. It was said that the league consists now of twenty-seven clubs, with a total of 1,000 members.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 12.—A. J. Street, the labor candidate for President, was hanged in effigy at St. Charles, Mo., Sunday night because he refused to give a stipend of land fifteen feet wide and a long road long for a public highway through a portion of his 1,000-acre farm in that county.

LOCUSTS HAVE COME AGAIN.

After Nineteen Years' Absence the Devastating Locusts Return. WYOMING, Ill., June 12.—The seventeen-year locusts appeared here about two weeks ago and have so rapidly increased in number that now they literally cover all kinds of bushes, hedges and trees. Their favorite food appears to be the leaves of currant-bushes and apple trees. They also eat potato-vines and alfalfa. When they first came up out of the ground they appear as a white grub, about an inch long, but they soon turn to a brown bug, and shedding their skin, develop in two days bulging two large, long, winged which when extended are three or four inches from tip to tip. Great apprehension is felt over their general devastation, and it is feared the shade and fruit trees will be ruined. Their career is short, as they only remain forty days. They have a chisel in their tail with which they play a trench in trees and thereby lay their eggs. The eggs hatch and drop to the ground, the insect burrows the earth for several years, and then the locusts reappear.

Donquixote, Ill., June 12.—Locusts have appeared here in vast numbers in the last two days. They are supposed to be the same as the Colorado locusts, but their appearance was in 1869, just thirteen years ago.

Signal service men pronounce this spring just past the coldest with one exception that has been experienced since 1870. The exception was that of 1885. For the last seventeen years we have not had so cold a May. The average May temperature since 1871 has been 38.5 degrees. This year the mean temperature for that month was 47.0, or 8.5 degrees below the normal.

Christ church people are now waiting a response to the call which has been extended to Rev. H. B. Dean, of Camden, New Jersey. By using one hundred feet of hose and same pressure, the distances would have been one hundred and twenty-seven feet horizontal and one hundred and sixty-three feet vertical, plainly showing that the plant is much beyond the requirements of the franchise. Recorder.

Evidently the water works reporter of the Recorder ought to get posted. To reverse his "horizontal" and "vertical" streams in the above enlightening paragraph, he would have been approximately correct. Be careful, with the spray.

The Valentine school of telegraphy is unable to supply the demand for operators. Nineteen men have been sent out during the past ten days with unfiled orders from the Northern Pacific R. There is a constant and increasing demand for good operators and the school has long since established a reputation for first class men.

Tendered from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It was worked like magic in the cure, and from that cold after using the Balm one week, and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I wholeheartedly recommend it. Samuel J. Harris, Wholesale Grocer, 119 Front St., New York.

SEVENTY HAPPY CHILDREN.

They Make the Song Festival a Complete Success.

There was an audience of very flattering proportions at the Song Festival last evening, and all who were unable to be present should certainly secure seats for to-night. The festival was a success from the rise of the curtain. The singing throughout was excellent, the choruses bright and well-rendered, and the tableaux, on which much of the festival's success depended, have never been surpassed in a similar entertainment in the city.

The certain rise of the Old Years' farwell. The New Year then appears, assembling his subjects—the Seasons, Months, Wood Elms, Dsw Drops, Sunbeams, Mountain Boys, Flower Girls, and others. Morning is escorted on her way by the Sunbeams, the little Sunbeam's plea to the Robin being done extremely well. To speak of all the excellent features would be impossible. Especial mention should be made, however, of the herd boy's solo, the mountain chorus; the Sunbeams and Dew Drops' lesson, the pretty chorus of the flower girls, the Styrian boys' dance, the story of the fate of the Devoted Apple as told by little Helen Cogswell, the admirably noted scene representing the reign of the Storm King and the floral march. This march, which was the closing scene, can hardly be given too high praise. It was a fitting finale to one of the most enjoyable entertainments which Jenaville people have been privileged to attend during the season.

At the second presentation of the programme this evening Lappin's hall should be filled to the doors.

TESTING OLD FIRE HOSE.

Some Very Fine Streams of Water Thrown by the Water Works.

The city now has in the neighborhood of two thousand feet of old rubber hose which has been in service for eight or nine years—too good to throw away, yet not strong enough to stand the irregular pressure of a steam fire engine. In the opinion of many conversant with hose and the service required of it in connection with the old hose possesses sufficient strength to stand the pressure required. For the purpose of testing this theory Chief Engineer Blunk, last evening, caused one thousand feet of the oldest hose in the department to be tested by attaching it to fire hydrants. The test side hose company attached two leads of 250 feet each to a fire hydrant at the corner of North Main street and Prospect avenue; the west side company attached similar leads to hydrants in front of their houses on North River street, both companies using one-inch nozzles. The water pressure at the pump was 120 pounds, and Engineer Williams informed a Gazette reporter that the pressure at the hydrant was about 110 pounds. Each company had five lengths of hose barred, the remainder standing the pressure in very good shape. Four very handsome streams of water were the result of the test. According to the rules of figuring such tests, the streams varied from 120 to 130 feet vertical and from 150 to 170 feet horizontal as the lines of hose were shortened up by the breaks. The test, while it was not intended for an exhibition of the capacity for throwing water, was nevertheless an exhibition of four very fine fire streams, indicating something of what may be expected when the regular display takes place.

So far as the hose test was concerned, it was very satisfactory. Nearly all the breaks occurred near the couplings, and easily accounted for it not anticipated before the test. It is safe to say that much of the hose possesses sufficient strength to be of service in the future with the water works, especially when long lines are required.

EXAMINING A SCHOOL HOUSE.

Better Accommodations for First Ward Children.

All of the school commissioners were present at the meeting of the board of education last evening.

Commissioner Smith offered a resolution that the board officially notify the common council that contracts had been let for the building and heating of a second district school house in the second ward, and requesting the council to place at the disposal of the school board the sum of $12,000 in the treasury, to be disposed of at the discretion of this board for the purpose named. The motion was adopted.

Action was then taken in the matter of enlarging the first ward school building. Commissioner Smith moved that the chairman of the building committee be empowered to secure plans and specifications of a two-room addition and basement to the first ward school building, and that he report the cost of the same to the board at once.

A committee consisting of Commissioners Smith, Metcalf and Wilson were authorized to take action with Superintendent Keyes with reference to exchange of teachers positions in the high school.

The building committee was authorized to take the necessary steps to obtain water for all the school houses.

Before adjourning the board elected Commissioner Wilson president pro tem to act at the high school commencement in place of President Sutherland who announced himself unable to be in the city on that day.
